

RESUMÉ

Name : Tarik Jan
Education : Major in law
Areas of interest : Islamic history; Philosophy; Media; Culture;
English literature; Law
Distinction : Second among male candidates.
Third position: Merit scholarship

Job Experience:

2005- Member Academic Council, T.M. Foundation
University -- Chartered by Higher Education

2003- Visiting Faculty (Sirah, Jurisprudence, Research Methodology)
Fatimah Jinnah Women University

2005 Visiting Faculty (Introduction to Philosophy)
Riphah International University

1991- Senior Research Fellow (Director Media and Culture)
Institute of Policy Studies

1988-1990 Creative Director
Adage

Pak Publications:

1993 8) Issues in Pakistani Politics

1994 9) Foreign Policy Debate: The Years Ahead

1998 10) Pakistan: Between Secularism and Islam
Ideology, Issues and Conflict
Published by the Institute of Policy Studies

1998 11) The Life and Times of Muhammad Rasul
Allah: Universalizing the Abrahamic Tradition
A joint publication of the Islamic Foundation, U.K., and the Institute of Policy Studies

2005 12) Secular Threat to Pakistan's Security
Published by the Institute of Pakistan Studies

2006 13) Four Key Terms of the Qur'an
Translated and edited
Published by the Islamic Foundation, U.K.

Besides my writing on "Science and Religion – Exaggerating the Conflict" has been included in a book Towards Understanding the State of Science in Pakistan; also contributed to the prestigious journal The Muslim World published by the Duncan Black Macdonald Center, U.S..

The Voice monthly in its Feb 2005 issue interviewed me on Islam and the West. Almost seven-page long, perhaps it's one of the longest academic interviews recorded in Pakistan's history.

Publications under Print:

1. The Life and Times of Muhammad Rasul Allah: Toward the Universal Islamic State, Volume-2
2. Science and Religion: Exaggerating the Conflict
3. A Critique of Christianity: Distorting the Abrahamic Tradition
4. Islam and the Secular Mind
Translated, Annotated, and Edited

Seminars:

1991	Gulf War: Implications for Pakistan Institute of Policy Studies
1994	Media and Foreign Policy Institute of Policy Studies
1995	United Nations and the Kashmir Issue Institute of Policy Studies
1995	Defining Culture (sole speaker)
1995	The Role of Media in Pakistani Politics Institute of Policy Studies
1996	Secularism and Islam Institute of Policy Studies
2003	Science and Religion: Friends or Enemies (sole speaker) Institute of Policy Studies
2004	East Pakistan Debacle Iqra University
2004	Critical Thinking (sole speaker) Riphah International University
2006	Science and Religion: Biases, Distortions, and Frenzied Conclusions (sole speaker) Institute of Policy Studies

Awards and Citations: Best work in Sirah, Riphah University

RANDS Corporation, U.S. top think tank, Graham Fuller says: I have read many books about Islam in my life, but I think Tarik Jan's book The Life and Times of Muhammad Rasul Allah – Universalizing the Abrahamic Tradition is a profound and important accomplishment that deserves major attention. I can literally say that the book opened up an entire new dimension to me about Islam and its relationship to Christianity and Judaism.

I am deeply impressed with the serious research and scholarship that this book demonstrates. Tarik Jan has mastered a huge body of complex material on history, philosophy, religion and culture and shed new light on issues little known in the West. Very few writers I know are capable of bringing such complex material together in one body in a fashion that is clear and interesting to read. It may be the best book I have ever seen that presents Islam to Western readers in a sympathetic and objective way, linking Islam directly to their own religion and culture. It is without doubt one of the most enlightening books I have read in the past twenty years on the subject of Islam. I believe it can have a major impact in presenting Islam in a new light to Westerners. It is the perfect book to give to anyone interested in Islam.

Graham E. Fuller

Senior Political Scientist RAND, U.S.A
Author: A Sense of Siege - The Geopolitics

Dr. Murad Hofman Germany's former ambassador to Morocco and NATO's Security Director in Europe, the author of numerous important works says: The language used is entirely modern and yet stylistically appropriate. Most important it has been able to contextualize the birth of Islam, historically, culturally and sociologically, in doing so showing an admirable command of contemporary Christological, philosophical and anthropological insights. It's a unique rendition of the Prophet's life.

Author and critic Maryam Jameelah former Margaret Marcus: An excellent work.

Daily The Nation: A monumental work.

Naseem Anwar Beg former division chief UNESCO

The Secular Threat to Pakistan's Security weaves the subtlety of subversion and the complexity of the deviationists' methods into powerful writing. Tarik Jan is not only a disciple of knowledge but also creates it.